LEGION PAPER EXPANDS STONEHENGE RANGE

Two new roll colors added: Cream and Natural

New York, NY (December 15, 2008) – Legion Paper, the leading supplier of fine art paper in North America, expands its Stonehenge paper range by introducing Stonehenge rolls in both Cream and Natural.

“Stonehenge is the most versatile 100% cotton fine art paper,” said Michael Ginsburg, president, Legion Paper. “There is no other all-rag fine art paper available in 50” wide rolls other than the Stonehenge White,” added Mr. Ginsburg. “As a result of artists working in several mediums and the versatility of what Stonehenge offers, we were encouraged to expand the range. There is still room for growth within the line as we continue to listen and react to the needs and wants of the fine art market.”

Stonehenge was introduced in the early 1970’s and quickly became the number one American fine art paper used by artists in all genres, from colored pencil and silverpoint to pastels and letterpress. Featured in limited edition collections and endorsed by hundreds of artists and organizations, Stonehenge sets the standard for high-quality yet affordable fine art paper.

The Cream and Natural Stonehenge rolls measure 50” x 10 yards and are available in 250gsm weight. The rolls open the range to artists who prefer working in a larger format on a 100% cotton fiber colored paper. The rolls are currently available in both Legion Papers’ East and West Coast warehouses. For more information please visit www.legionpaper.com.
