FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LEGION PAPER INTRODUCES NEW RANGE OF PAPERS, LEGION EASTERN DECORATIVES COLLECTION

Sets new trend in decorative papers for North America

New York, NY (April 18, 2007) – Legion Paper, the largest supplier of fine art paper in North America, unveils the Legion Eastern Decoratives Collection of papers at NAMTA 2007 in Chicago at booth #223. The new Eastern Decoratives Collection features unique design and dazzling color combinations that will revolutionize and enhance any project.

“Legion Paper is not new to the decorative market. We were one of the first companies to import papers from Nepal, Thailand, Japan and India into the US,” said Michael Ginsburg, president of Legion Paper. “But we’ve been noticing that these papers, and the US decorative paper market in general, were becoming stagnant and we needed to revitalize this important market and introduce fresh colors and qualities.”

The range of these new papers consist of eight families of 31” x 43” sheets embossed with distinctive designs and enhanced with sparkling metallic elements.

Crystal Metallic closely resembles a brushed aluminum

Dragon has a reptilian skin texture

Fabrique is enhanced with a silk-satin feel

Heather has a wool-like appearance

Pique has a quilted pattern reminiscent of dimples

Pleat has a tight, linear pattern

Slalom has uniform wavy lines

Stone resembles cobblestones

“The Legion Eastern Decorative Collection is our most comprehensive and new decorative line to hit the US market in over a decade,” added Ginsburg. “We developed the range in close partnership with the mills over the course of a year by reviewing thousands of colors and designs and narrowed the selection down with the help of our key customers within the packaging, stationery conversion, scrap booking and decorative markets.”

About Legion Paper
